Give Your Wife One

Thousands of wives and daughters run their own Ford cars. They use them for shopping, calling, attending the theatre, taking the children for a run in the country, or to school.

You couldn't give "her" a present she would appreciate more than this beautiful, modern car, with its stream-line effect, tapered hood and crown fenders.

Look Up Record

The mothers of this constituency should look up Mr. Puffer's record on the great moral questions that have been before the province during the last few years. They will find that he opposed every reform, either openly or by apathy.

He did not support prohibition. He was opposed to "Votes for Women."

He insisted on an election being called in war time, and a year before his government's term had expired.

He kept his slaughter house, a menace to the health of the town of Lacombe, right on our borders until compelled to remove it.

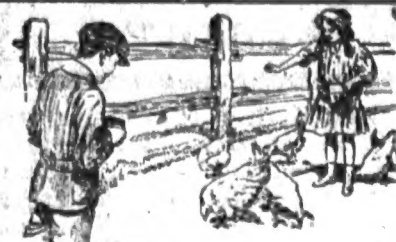

He opposed the meat inspection by-law of the town council, and put the town to the expense of a legal action before he would obey it.

Do you really think Mr. Puffer is a man deserving of your confidence, when you consider the above?

Other great moral questions will come before the country. Mr. Puffer has always taken his stand against the great reforms sought by our people. Mr. Puffer has tied himself to C. W. Cross, whose administration of the office of Attorney-General stinks in the nostrils of the respectable citizens of our Province. Chas. Cross caters to a certain element. His staunchest supporter is Mr. Puffer.

It was reported in a Calgary paper that Lieut. W. A. Shields, one of our most respected citizens, and formerly manager of the Merchant's Bank of Canada, here had been killed in action. On some of his friends telegraphing his father at Virden, Man., the following good news came: "Appreciate your kind message. The only cable received by me is Lieut. W. A. Shields, slightly wounded remaining on duty."

The only excuse Mr. Puffer had at his meeting for not supporting prohibition openly, was a charge that he was not much worse than Mr. Gilmour. He made the terrible charge that Mr. Gilmour, some five or six years ago, was the only man in Lacombe who would not sign a petition to have the sale of cigarettes to minors prohibited. This was simply awful on the part of Mr. Gilmour. Things change in five or six years, however. Five or six years ago the very men who made prohibition possible in Alberta would not give such a thing as prohibition a thought. Why, we can remember that five or six years ago we would take a drink of Scotch without a single burning of conscience, and then some. We don't know anything about cigarettes, it is one of the vices we in some unexplainable manner failed to accumulate, but we do think that if Mr. Gilmour failed in his duty some five or six years ago in not signing the petition against cigarettes, he fully atoned for his action by the manly way in which he worked and spent his money to carry prohibition for Alberta.

You Often Hear

Something like this, "I never needed glasses until I had the measles."

The eye defect was always there, but the measles weakened the eyes and brought it out.

In a similar way, the excessive use of the eyes for near work will expose a defect which was not known to exist before. Persons with an eye defect, whether they know it or not, are using an over amount of nervous energy to overcome that defect. The extra supply of nerve energy is taken from the weakest organ in the body. Where there is no surplus energy, the weak organ must become weaker, and consequently give more trouble. This is called a reflex symptom, and accounts for the fact that people often improve in health after wearing glasses.

If you are having trouble with your eyes, let me test them

Borden Will Give Votes For Women

Premier Borden's announcement that his government will favor general Dominion franchise for women in time for the next Dominion election will be received with general approval throughout the country. It would have been decidedly unfair to have allowed women in provinces where the franchise had been granted them, to vote in Dominion contests and denied the franchise right to women of other provinces.

The fact that the granting of women franchise for the Dominion will necessitate the preparation of special Dominion voters' lists makes the general franchise extension proposal unwelcome to the Liberals. They were anxious that women in the provinces where the franchise had already been allowed should be given the vote but are opposed to opening up the other provinces to the women. The sincerity of their enthusiasm for women's suffrage may be judged from this stand.

Special Dominion voters lists will mean that provincial governments, which have hitherto compiled the lists on which Dominion elections have been held, will no longer have the privilege. All provincial governments in Canada with the exception of two are Liberal. The preparation of the voters' lists means much in a Dominion contest. Provincial Liberal governments are pleased to assist their party in federal fighting and there are many ways in the compilation of the voter's lists, whereby they could help.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is enthusiastic for women suffrage up to the point where his party chances of success at the polls become involved. For the sake of power he would be willing to sanction a great wrong to many thousands of the women of Canada. Dr. Clark of Red Deer, is another type of Liberal. He declared against his leader and stood with the government on this question. The incident should be noted by women voters.

Miss Cora Petro and mother were over Sunday visitors at the Bigam home.

Miss Emma Nelson is on the sick list.

Edmonton Bulletin on War Election

The Edmonton Bulletin, the leading Liberal paper in Alberta says:

"Surely the news from the front will put an end to the talk of deflecting attention from the war and diverting ourselves by a political controversy. If we do not concentrate the whole attention and effort of the nation upon the single object of beating the enemy, we shall be unworthy of the men who have fallen and of their equally heroic comrades who are holding the line against the most formidable foe that ever undertook to smash the British Empire and lay free civilization in ruins. This is no time to talk politics."

In the last provincial election there was a surprising amount of naturalizing work done, particularly in the south country, just on the eve of the election. The Liberals will miss this election and this time no naturalization of people of enemy countries being possible during war times.

Keep up the Food Supply and Help Make Victory Sure

"I AM assured that my people will respond to every call necessary to the success of our cause—with the same indomitable ardour and devotion that have filled me with pride and gratitude since the war began."

HIS MAJESTY KING GEORGE

OUR soldiers must be fed; the people at home must be fed. And—in spite of Germany's murderous campaign to cut off the Allies' Food supply, by sinking every ship on the High Seas—an ample and unfailing flow of food to England and France must be maintained.

This is National Service—
Not to the Farmer only—
But to YOU—to everybody—
This appeal is directed

WE must unite as a Nation to SERVE—to SAVE and to PRODUCE. Men, women and children; the young, the middle aged and the old—all can help in the Nation's Army of Production.

EVERY pound of FOOD raised, helps reduce the cost of living and adds to the Food Supply for Overseas.

PLANT a garden—small or large. Utilize your own back yard. Cultivate the vacant lots. Make them all yield food.

WOMEN of towns can find no better or more important outlet for their energies than in cultivating a vegetable garden.

Be patriotic in act as well as in thought.

Use every means available—
Overlook nothing.

Crisis in Russia Believed Averted

Petrograd, May 17, via London. As a result of a meeting in Petrograd of the Commanders-in-chief from all the fronts except the Caucasus, Generals Brusilov and Gurko have withdrawn their resignations and reports of further resignations are refuted by the definite announcement that all the commanders have decided to remain at their posts. Thus the crisis in the army, which formed an alarming accompaniment to the political crisis, has been averted.

Discussing with the temporary government the serious condition of affairs at the front, the commanders declared that the unfortunate phrase, "Peace without annexations," had found its way to the army and was there translated into an argument against offensive warfare. This and other harmful doctrines pervaded the army, and the inability of the officers satisfactorily to explain them had ruined discipline and destroyed the authority and prestige of the officers. The discord in Petrograd had naturally found echo everywhere at the front, but the spirit of the soldiers was slowly recovering and the power of the Russian artillery was by no means lost.

General Alexeeff, commander in chief of the Russian armies, during the course of an interview said:

"The whole gist of the new idea reforms cannot be properly understood by the army, and this has brought about dangerous results. We cannot overcome the consequent loss of authority if irresponsible persons and organization cease further to interfere with our work. I feel assured that under the new coalition government it will be possible to conduct military affairs in a more energetic manner. It is time to wake up and stop shouting 'Peace without annexations.' Let us leave peace negotiations to the government."

$200,000 SWINDLER GLEICHEN FARMER IS CLEANED OUT

Chicago, May, 17.—Carl Christianson, a farmer from Gleichen, Alberta, after a short sojourn at Hot Springs Ark., passed through Chicago yesterday on his way to Minneapolis wiser than when he left home and poorer by $20,000.

In Hot Springs he met a likeable sort of chap named Stafford from North Dakota, and to cut the high cost of living they shared the same room. Out walking they found a fat wallet containing papers, a telegraph code, certificates of deposits and a bond for $75,000.

Next day they saw an advertisement offering a liberal reward for the wallet's return. They called the owner, returned the wallet and discovered Ludwig, the owner to be a field agent for the New York stock exchange. As a reward for their honesty he let them, in on a "good thing." Christianson won $110,000 but he was made to wait for his "winnings" until after the cheque for $20,000 which he had "invested" had been cashed.

Lacombe Bull Sale Wed., May 30th

The stock men of Alberta will have another splendid opportunity to purchase purebred beef bulls at the annual auction sale, to be held by the Alberta Cattle Breeders' Association at Lacombe, May 30th. At that sale there will be 55 Shorthorn, 15 Aberdeen Angus and 22 Hereford offered. Special railroad rates have been arranged from C. P. R. points to Lacombe between Edmonton and Calgary, and from as far as Hardisty on the Wetaskiwin branch and Major on the Lacombe branch. The tickets will be good going May 29th and 30th, returning on May 31st. The transportation of Bulls purchased at the sale is paid to the purchasers nearest station for a nominal fee, and the bulls are loaded on the cars by the sellers. At these sales the buyers are able to inspect a large number of bulls without unnecessary time and expense, and the price is set by open bidding, according to the quality of each bull.

The Alberta Cattle Breeders' Association has now sold 4244 bulls for $650,698, and the recent sale held by the Association at Calgary of 470 bulls for $136,221 constituted a record for any such sale held on the American continent.

The Conservative party of Alberta did not want a fight at this time. But the fight having been forced upon it, it isn't being at all slow to take up the challenge. There is every prospect that two weeks from today Mr. Sifton will wish he had listened to the peace element among his followers.

GREWSOME USE MADE OF DEAD GERMAN SOLDIERS

London, May 16.—The following article describing a horrible industry which is attributed to the Germans, appears in the Times:

"We pass through Evergreen-court. There is a dull smell in the air as if lime were being burnt. We are passing the great corpse exploitation establishment (kadaver-Verwertungsanstalt) of this army group. The fat that is won here is turned into lubricating oils, and everything is ground down in the bone mill into a powder which is used for mixing with pig food and as manure.

In our columns "Through German Eyes," yesterday says the Times, we published the above callous description of a German "corpse exploitation establishment," situated behind the enemy's lines north of Rheims. This description was furnished by Herr Karl Rosner, special correspondent of the Berlin Lokal-Anzeiger, on the Western front. This statement corroborates a striking account of this new and horrible German industry which appeared in the Independence Belge for April 10, as extracted from La Belgique of Leyden in Holland.

This version omitting some of the most repulsive details is as follows:

"We have known for long that the Germans stripped their dead behind the firing line, fastened them into bundles of three and four bodies with iron wire then dispatched these ghastly bundles to the rear. Until recently the trains laden with the dead were sent to Seraing, near Liege, a point north of Brussels, where were refuse consumers. Much surprise was caused by the fact that of late this traffic has proceeded in the direction of Gerolstein, and it was noted that on each wagon was written 'D.A.V. G.'"

"German science is responsible for the ghastly idea of the formation of the German Utilization Company, Limited, 'D.A.V.G. or 'Deutsche Abfall Verwertungs Gesellschaft,' a dividend-earning company with a capital of £250,000, the chief factory of which has been constructed 1000 yards from the railway connecting St. Vith near the Belgian frontier with Gerolstein, in the lonely, little-frequented Eifel district, southwest of Coblenz.

"This factory deals specially with the dead from the West front. If the results are as good as the company hopes another will be established to deal with corpses on the East front.

"The factory is invisible from the railway. It is placed deep in forest country with a specially thick growth of trees about it. Live wires surround it. A special double track leads to it. The works are about 700 feet long and 110 feet broad, and the railway runs completely round them. In the Northwest corner of the works the discharge of the trains takes place.

"The trains arrive full of bare bodies which are unloaded by the workers who live at the works. The men wear oilskins, overalls, and masks with mica eyepieces. They are equipped with long hooked poles, and push the bundles of bodies to an endless chain, which picks them with big hooks attached at intervals of two ft. The bodies are transported on the endless chain into a long narrow compartment, where they pass through a bath which disinfects them. They then go through a drying chamber and finally are automatically carried into a digester or great cauldron, in which they are dropped by an apparatus which detaches them from the chain. In the digester they remain from six to eight hours, and are treated by steam which breaks them up while they are slowly stirred by machinery.

From the treatment result several products. The fats are broken up into stearine, a form of tallow and oils, which require to be redistilled before they can be used. The process of distillation is carried out by boiling the oil with carbonate of soda, and some part of the by-products resulting from this is used by German soap makers. The oil distillery and refinery lie in the southeast corner of the works. The refined oil is sent out in small casks like those used for petroleum and is of a yellowish brown color.

"The fumes exhausted from the building by electric fans, and are sucked through a great pipe to the northeastern corner where they are condensed, and the refuse resulting is discharged into sewer. There is no big chimney as the boiler furnaces are supplied with air by fans.

"There is a laboratory, and in charge of the works is a chief chemist, with two assistants and 78 men. All the employees are soldiers and are attached to the 8th Army corps. There is a sanatorium by the works, and under no pretext is any man permitted to leave them. They are guarded as prisoners at their appalling work.

The abandonment of Edmonton by Mr. Cross is a sign of great weakness. He has represented the city since the establishment of the province and if he thought he had any chance of re-election he would unquestionably be a candidate there.

UNCLE SAM IS REALLY IN THE WAR AT LAST

Queenstown, May 16.—A squadron of United States Torpedo boats crossed the Atlantic and is patrolling the seas in war service. The American navy's actual entry into the warzone has already been productive of a brush between a destroyer and a German underwater boat, according to an announcement by the British admiralty, but the result of it has not been made public.

The destroyer squadron arrived in Queenstown after an uneventful voyage across the Atlantic, but almost immediately after a formal exchange of greetings with the British naval officials put to sea again for the hard work that is before it. One of the American destroyers began war duty even before reaching this side of the Atlantic. This was when it picked up and escorted through the danger zone one of the largest of the Atlantic liners. This action so pleased the British pasengers on board that they sent a message of greeting and appreciation to the commander of the destroyer.

James Millar Tells of the Big Fight

The following letter has been received from Jas. Miller, of Bentley, who was wounded in the Vimy Ridge fight.

Dear mother: I suppose you were surprised to hear that I was wounded; this is the second time. We went over the top about two weeks after Christmas, and I received a wound in my side with a German bayonet; this time I am shot in the head and left shoulder—I have sure had some exciting times. Easter morning, the first day we went over the top, at five o'clock in the morning and the mud was about six inches deep, and we were carrying about one hundred pounds of kit. I had a sack of bombs and six hundred rounds of machine gun ammunition. I was in the machine gun section when we went over, but got separated from the boys first thing so I went across with the crowd. I soon found Albert Barker and a few more of the boys, and so we stayed together. We found out that we had gone too far ahead, and Fritz had pinned us in and opened four machine guns on us. We got into a shell hole and had to stay there. We numbered about twenty-five before they opened fire on us, and after they had killed nineteen we decided to move and we crawled out, and as luck would have it we ran into a bunch of Fritz men. They all came at us with bayonets, and we would have shown fight only there was too many of them, and we surrendered. I guess there must have been fifty of them. Then they started us down to their headquarters, but a fellow gave me a signal and we bombed them with what bombs we had left and turned and ran for our lives. I made it, but the other fellows were killed. That was the time I got wounded in the head and shoulder. I laid out all night and wasn't picked up until noon next day. The number of dead and wounded around me was something fierce. Well, the first day we drove them a mile and a half, and the second day the second, third, and fourth divisions took up the work and drove the Germans back about five miles. The Fritzies are no good with the bayonet, but they sure can kill with the machine gun and rifle fire. Once that day when Fritz came back at us I knocked the rifle out of one fellow's hand but he reached down and got a dagger out of his boot and came at me. I sure had an exciting time then. There are six of our boys in this ward that are wounded pretty badly, one poor fellow with tubes running all through his legs, and he suffers something fierce.

James Miller.

LLOYD GEORGE OUTLINES PLAN OF HOME RULE

London, May 16.—The British prime minister today sent a letter to John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalist party, outlining the government's project for the settlement of the home rule question. He asked Mr. Redmond to state his views on the government's suggestion in order that the government may be able to consider the matter before Monday.

As soon as the premier's proposals were available the Irish Unionists met to discuss the document. The Nationalists will hold a meeting on Thursday morning for the same purpose.

The government, the letter set forth, has been desirous of effecting an immediate settlement which will concede the largest possible measure of home rule that can be secured by agreement at this moment without prejudice to the undertaking by parliament of a further and final settlement of the most disputed questions after the war.

The government's proposals provide for the introduction of a bill for the immediate application of the home rule act in Ireland, but excluding the six counties of Northeast Ulster, such exclusion to be subject to reconsideration by parliament at the end of five years; a council of Ireland to be composed of two delegations, representing the excluded area as well as the new Irish parliament; consideration of the bill after its second reading by a special conference under the chairmanship of one commanding general confidence.

As an alternative, it is suggested by the premier that a convention of Irishmen of all parties be assembled for the purpose of arranging a scheme of Irish self government.

Whooping Cough

"The disease I most dread is Whooping Cough, for children are often permanently injured by the awful straining of the cough. You should never neglect it, and treatment should be started at the first symptom. You cannot mistake the symptoms: protracted coughing, worse at night; peculiar whoop; labored expectoration of mucus; apparent suffocation after coughing.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is a positive remedy for this disease—repeat the dose frequently, for if given freely it liquefies the tough mucus, makes it easy to expectorate and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. There is no danger whatever from Whooping Cough when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given."

The Rest Room

Because some of our citizens had come to the conclusion that the women of the District were deserving of a comfortable Rest Room, with modern conveniences, and got busy and secured the necessary funds for the purpose, a howl goes up in certain quarters because the Rest Room will be moved from where it is now to a more suitable building, and a report is being industriously circulated by one active "politician" that the naughty conservatives are attempting to "work" the Institute for political gain. This kind of political campaigning is too silly for comment, and we are sure that the members of the Lacombe Women's Institute will bear us out when we say that politics did not enter into the matter in even a remote way. The Rest Room will be furnished and equipped irrespective of which political candidate is elected, and neither political candidate has contributed one cent to the fund.

Liberal Meeting

The public meeting held in the Comet on Monday evening in the interests of Mr. Puffer called forth only a small audience, most of whom were citizens of Lacombe. Mr. Puffer gave a very good talk on things he had accomplished during the twelve years he had represented the constituency, and promised to keep up the good work. The meeting was most unsympathetic, and bears out our contention that the bringing on of an election at this time was very ill advised and unnecessary.

Hon. C. R. Mitchell gave a pleasing address on what "Liberalism Has Done For Alberta," and was listened to with great attention. Dr. Sharpe was chairman of the evening.

For screen doors all sizes, see Lacombe Furniture Store.

Gilmour Meeting

One of the most largely attended and enthusiastic meetings ever held in this constituency, was the one held by Mr. Andrew Gilmour at Bentley last night. The hall was packed to the doors with a representative audience, and the speeches of those on the platform were listened to with great attention. Mr. H. Brownlow was the chairman of the evening, and introduced the speakers. Mr. A. M. McDonald opened the meeting with a short address on matters concerning the district, and was greeted with much applause. Mr. Andrew Gilmour, the Conservative candidate, gave a very pleasing address, and set out plainly his platform, and the need of a change in the administration at Edmonton. The Railway question came up and the audience was assured that no matter who was returned to power, the road would be completed at once. If the present government failed to carry out its promise to rush the road to completion, the conservatives would see that the road was finished. He gave his stand on roads, hospitals, and taxation, and was cheered to the echo.

Mr. Mitchener gave a very lucid exposition of matters provincial. He showed the audience plainly were the present administration had failed in their duties, and by the enthusiasm displayed his words did not fall on barren ground. He gave in detail the platform of his party and pledged himself to the carrying out of that platform to the letter. The west country, which the present administration has shamefully neglected in the matter of roads, is strong for a change, and from present indications the days of the present representative are numbered—June 7th, 5 p.m.

SERMON ON EMPIRE

On Sunday last in St. Cyprian's church, the Rev. H. Assiter, preached a sermon on the greatness of the Empire, and the responsibilities devolving on the individual citizen to maintain that greatness. He introduced the subject by telling of the growth of the Israelitish nation from an obscure stock to what it eventually became at the height of its prosperity and showed that its wonderful stability was due to the blessing of the almighty, as shown in the text which was taken from the song of Moses: "He found them, He led them, He instructed them, He kept them." The preacher drew an analogy between that nation and the British Empire. When Queen Victoria ascended the throne the population of the Empire was 130 millions; which has increased today to 400 millions. The Union Jack flies in the breeze over one fifth of the entire land surface of the globe. But the strength of the Empire did not lie in her vast territories, her great population, the value of her commerce, nor in the two-power standard of her navy; but the secret of her greatness lay in the fact that the Empire honored the name of God. He concluded, "Only let us cleave to our God and He will be true to us and prosper the Empire; but if we forsake Him, the foundering of the ship of state is only a matter of time."

There is no extreme to which some narrow-headed politicians will go to in an attempt to further their cause. We know "politicians" that is pseudo politicians, who attempt to use every phase of life to further the ends of their party. They use their church, their friends, their lodge their home, their business, in their attempts. Nothing is too sacred to be prostituted for political gain by these gentlemen. Thank goodness the time is coming quickly when politics of this kind will be no more, and people will follow the dictates of their own minds.

The appeal to the women of Alberta to vote for their "benefactors, the Sifton government, is not one to which there can be a general response. The women of Alberta do not regard the granting of the suffrage as a piece of beneficence. They know that the Sifton government only introduced its suffrage bill when it became apparent that public opinion was strongly in favor of that move and long after the leaders of the opposition had gone on record in support of it. The government took no risk whatever in connection with the legislation. So far from being under any debt of gratitude to it, the women may rightly ask why it took so long as it did in giving expression to what were the undoubted wishes of the public in the matter.

CANADA WILL FULFILL HER PLEDGE TO THE EMPIRE

Sir Robert Borden's announcement brings a feeling of great relief to the majority of Canadians.

It has been apparent to everyone for many weeks past that, as the premier said, "the voluntary system will not yield further substantial results." At the meetings which have been held in connection with Mr. Blondin's spirited recruiting campaign in Quebec, Gen. Lessard, while urging voluntary enlistment, has been telling his fellow French-Canadians that he considered a conscription measure inevitable. All through the English-speaking provinces there has been a steady growth of sentiment in favor of such a step. Recent events in Europe and the action taken by the American congress have strengthened this and four out of five persons in our own vicinity are now agreed that for Canada to hold back would be a national disgrace.

To do so would be to impair very seriously the glory that the war has brought us and to prove false not only to the cause of freedom and of civilization but to the men who have been representing us on the firing line.

That the government would have reached this decision sooner if Sir Robert Borden had been in Canada during the last three months there is every reason to believe. Since he left to attend the All-important council of the Empire, the United States has entered the war.

So long as it was a neutral power, a serious obstacle to Canadian conscription existed. But things are different now and there is no reasonable excuse for delay.

The premier has acted promptly within a few days of his return to the country and in the stand that he has taken he should receive the backing of every citizen who desires the triumph of the Allied Arms.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is non-committal in his remarks. This is a pity. An immediate agreement on his part to support the measure proposed would have had a most beneficial effect.

Many Liberal newspapers have been urging such a step and attacking the government because it did not take it. It is to be sincerely hoped that they will now prove true to these professions and that their influence will be such as to bring the official party policy into line with their views.

If the question is not an issue between the parties much of the difficulty which the enforcement of compulsion will entail will be avoided. But there will still be trouble to overcome, even with this hoped for agreement.

There are elements by no means confined to Quebec, which are prepared to offer resistance and the government is entitled to all possible support in carrying out its programme from those who are anxious to have Canada do its duty in this great emergency.

It has required courage on the part of the premier to make the move. No one who has followed the discussions of the last few months can be in any doubt upon that point. Under the best conditions that can be hoped for he will not find it easy sailing in putting his plans into effect. But he is doing what is so essentially the right thing that he need have no fear of the final vindication.

The Alien Vote

When asked by a returned soldier at the Calgary meeting last week, if alien enemies would be permitted to vote, Premier Sifton stated that so long as the alien enemy conducted himself properly his right to vote would be just as good as the veteran's. Mothers of Soldiers in France will resent this opinion of Premier Sifton.

We know of one mining community in Alberta, where the Sifton government expects a solid vote from Aliens—a mining community where ninety-nine per cent. of the people are Austrians that has not to date contributed one cent to the Red Cross or Patriotic Fund, and twice, when the mining union was asked to contribute to the patriotic fund, these Austrians, whose vote Sifton said was as good as a British subject refused to contribute one cent. Have these Austrians a moral right to the franchise at this time, and are we treating fairly our bravest and best, who are shedding their blood on the plains of France to guarantee us continued freedom, when we let them have it? What do the mothers of our boys on the firing line say?

THE LATE MRS. BARNHILL
Mrs. H. C. Barnhill, (nee Mary Beaton), was born at Halfway River, Cumberland Co., Nova Scotia, October, 1887. She came west in 1911, as a school teacher, and was married in Calgary January 1st, 1916, to H. C. Barnhill, Clive. She died May 12, 1917, leaving a loving husband and infant son six days old, Arnold Beaton Barnhill. The funeral was held at the Presbyterian Church, Lacombe, on May 14th, and was conducted by the Rev. M. White. A large number of friends from Red Deer, Brooks, Clive, and the adjoining districts attended the funeral. The sympathy of the entire district is extended to the bereaved husband and other relations.

Freckles at Comet

The Comet theatre will be reopened under the management of owner Mr. R. Shilleto, and some of the seasons best attractions will be produced, others will not be permitted to be seen in this city. The house will be cleaned and heated. "Freckles" a song-play from the pen of Mrs. Gene Stratton-Porter will be the first of high class attractions, and will appear on Tuesday, May 29th. This is the same cast and production that appeared at the Empire theatre, Edmonton, and is also booked for the Grand theatre in Calgary for date of Victoria Day, May 24th and two days following. The story is too well known to take up space, the company comes highly recommended and is produced by the United Producing Company producers of "Peg O' My Heart", one of the best plays ever seen in our city. Bookings are expected of "Birth of a Nation" and "Mutt and Jeff" in the near future.

Carl Christianson a Gleichen farmer, is supposed to have been relieved of a $20,000 roll by some sharpers of Hot Springs, Ark. The question is, where did Carl get it in the first place?
